

QKLG 2024: Principle — Critical reflection

Nurturing confident and creative lifelong learners

How do teachers and educators in your service:

- evaluate programs and practices to identify ways of improving teaching, learning and relationships?
- engage with multiple perspectives and theories to build insight?
- reflect on personal and world views, and their potential influence on teaching and learning?
- use evidence-informed approaches to connect theory to practice, and maintain accountability and integrity in professional decision-making?
