What changes have you seen in your child since they started kindergarten?

Parent 1: My daughter, Freya, the changes I’ve seen in her, I think because she has an older brother and a younger sister as well, she tended to be the one that got talked over a lot, so her personality didn’t really come out that much until she came to kindy. This is her thing, this is what she does. She knows that she feels special coming here, and because of that her personality has just developed so much quicker.

Her language skills and reading skills and artistic skills have increased as well, but mostly her personality has really shone through. That’s the biggest change we’ve seen in her since coming to the centre.

Parent 2: I’d probably say his fine motor skills have really, really developed and his social skills, to be able to play with the other children and work together as a team. His enjoyment. If he’s happy I’m happy, and he’s thoroughly enjoyed being here, which has been really good.
