1 Course overview

1.1 Introduction

1.1.1 Rationale

The need to communicate is the foundation for all language development. People use language to achieve their personal communicative needs — to express, exchange, interpret and negotiate meaning, and to understand the world around them. The central goal for additional language acquisition is communication. Candidates do not simply learn a language — they participate in a range of interactions in which they exchange meaning and become active participants in understanding and constructing written, spoken and visual texts.

Additional language acquisition provides candidates with opportunities to reflect on their understanding of a language and the communities that use it, while also assisting in the effective negotiation of experiences and meaning across cultures and languages. Communicating with people from Indonesian-speaking communities provides insight into the purpose and nature of language and promotes greater sensitivity to, and understanding of, linguistic structures, including the linguistic structures of English. As candidates develop the ability to explore cultural diversity and similarities between another language and their own, this engagement with other languages and cultures fosters intercultural understanding.

Language acquisition occurs in social and cultural settings. It involves communicating across a range of contexts for a variety of purposes, in a manner appropriate to context. As candidates experience and evaluate a range of different text types, they reorganise their thinking to accommodate other linguistic and intercultural knowledge and textual conventions. This informs their capacity to create texts for a range of contexts, purposes and audiences.

Central to the capacity to evaluate and create texts are the skills of critical and creative thinking, intellectual flexibility and problem-solving. Acquiring an additional language provides the opportunity to develop these interrelated skills, and requires candidates to use language in a meaningful way through the exchange of information, ideas and perspectives relevant to their life experiences.

For exchanges to be relevant and useful, additional language acquisition must position candidates at the centre of their own learning. When candidates communicate their own aspirations, values, opinions, ideas and relationships, the personalisation of each candidate's learning creates a stronger connection with the language. Activities and tasks are developed to fit within the candidate's life experience.

The ability to communicate in an additional language such as Indonesian is an important 21st century skill. Candidates develop knowledge, understanding and skills that enable successful participation in a global society. Communication in an additional language expands candidates' horizons and opportunities as national and global citizens.

Additional language acquisition contributes to and enriches intellectual, educational, linguistic, metacognitive, personal, social and cultural development. It requires intellectual discipline and systematic approaches to learning, which are characterised by effective planning and organisation, incorporating processes of self-management and self-monitoring.

Assumed knowledge, prior learning or experience

This syllabus is designed for candidates who wish to study Indonesian as an additional language and who have studied the P–10 Australian Curriculum: Indonesian or similar. Other candidates with less formal language learning experience may also be able to meet the requirements of the syllabus successfully.

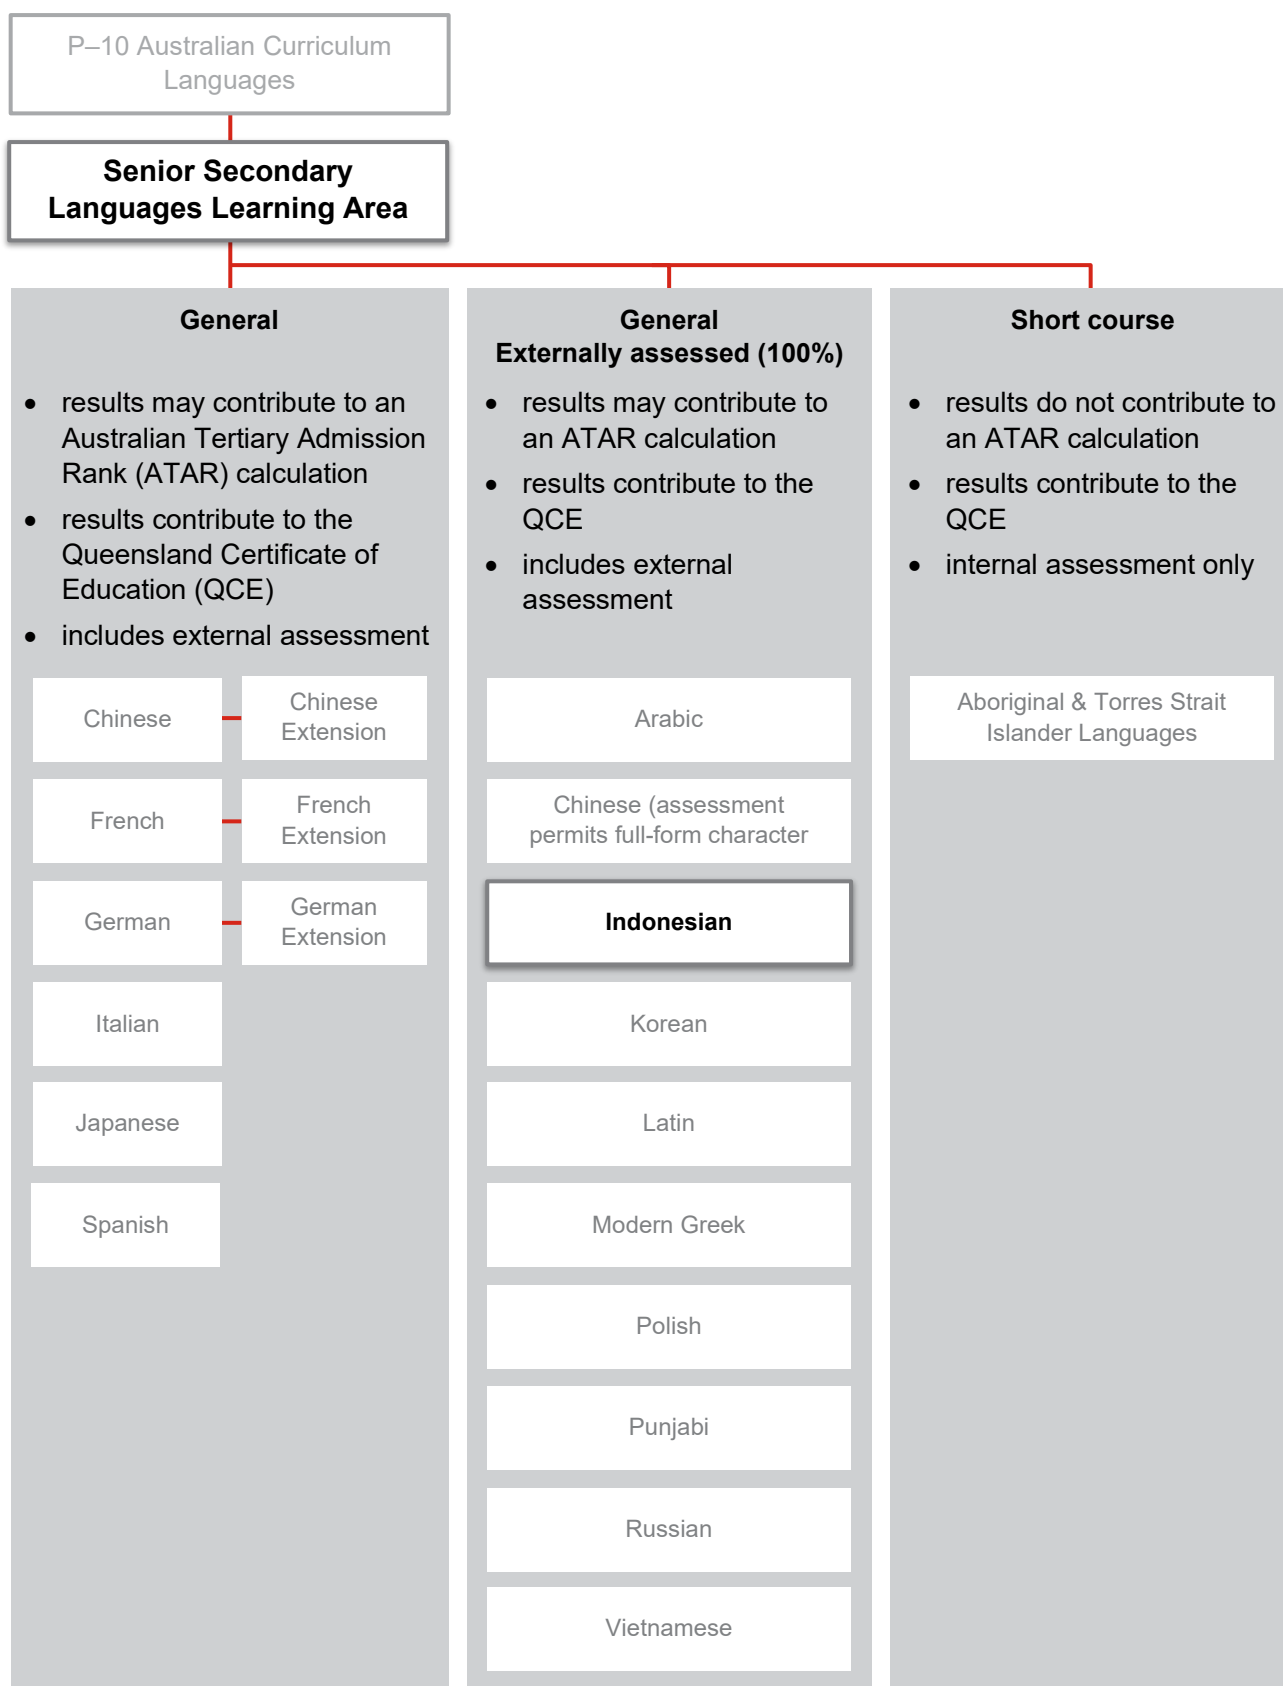

Pathways

Indonesian is a General externally assessed subject suited to candidates who are interested in pathways that lead to tertiary studies, vocational education or work. A course of study in Indonesian can establish a basis for further education and employment in many professions and industries. For example, those which value the knowledge of an additional language and the intercultural understanding it encompasses, such as business, hospitality, law, science, technology, sociology and education.

1.1.2 Learning area structure

All learning areas build on the P–10 Australian Curriculum.

1.1.3 Course structure

Indonesian is a course of study consisting of four units. Subject matter, learning experiences and assessment increase in complexity from Units 1 and 2 to Units 3 and 4.

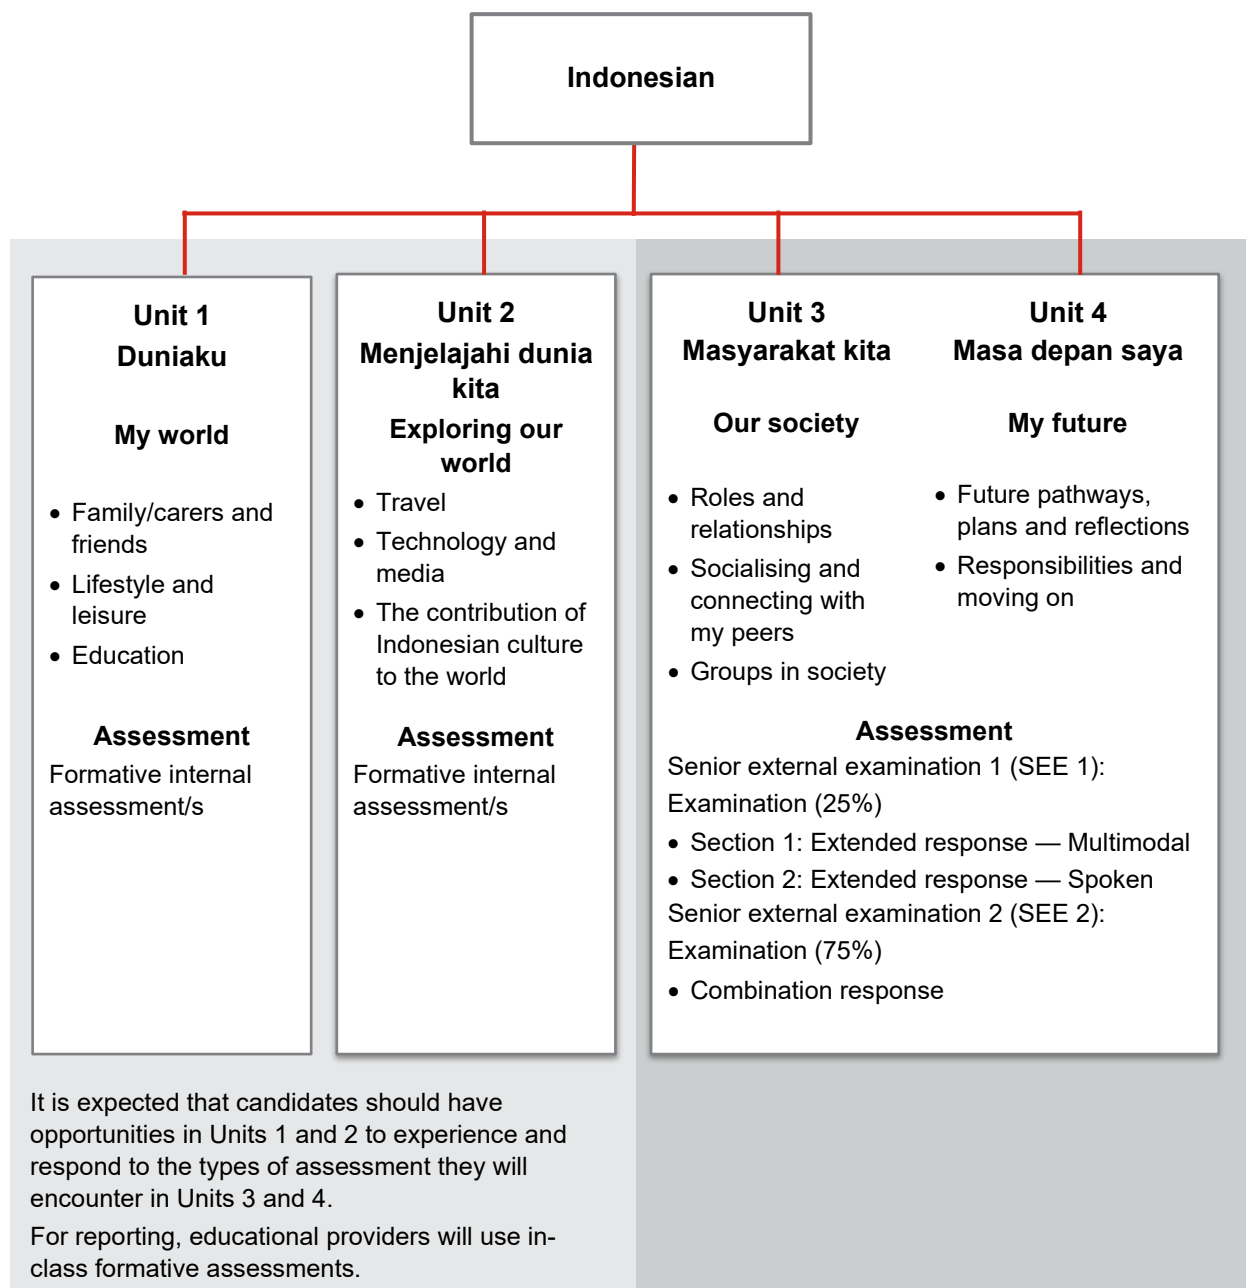

Units 1 and 2 provide foundational learning, which allows candidates to experience all syllabus objectives and begin engaging with the course subject matter. It is expected that candidates should complete Units 1 and 2 before beginning Unit 3. It is recommended that Unit 3 be completed before Unit 4.

Units 3 and 4 consolidate candidate learning. Only the results from Units 3 and 4 will contribute to ATAR calculations.

Each unit has been developed with a notional time of 55 hours of teaching and learning. Time allocation depends on the method of study. Candidates who elect to study without systematic tuition must organise their time according to syllabus requirements and individual circumstances.

1.2 Teaching and learning

1.2.1 Syllabus objectives

The syllabus objectives outline what candidates have the opportunity to learn. Assessment provides evidence of how well candidates have achieved the objectives.

Syllabus objectives inform unit objectives, which are contextualised for the subject matter and requirements of the unit. Unit objectives, in turn, inform the assessment objectives, which are further contextualised for the requirements of the assessment instruments. The number of each objective remains constant at all levels, i.e. Syllabus objective 1 relates to Unit objective 1 and to Assessment objective 1 in each assessment instrument.

Syllabus objectives are described in terms of actions that operate on the subject matter. Candidates are required to use a range of cognitive processes in order to demonstrate and meet the syllabus objectives. These cognitive processes are described in the explanatory paragraph following each objective in terms of four levels: retrieval, comprehension, analytical processes (analysis), and knowledge utilisation, with each process building on the previous processes (see Marzano & Kendall 2007, 2008). That is, comprehension requires retrieval, and knowledge utilisation requires retrieval, comprehension and analytical processes (analysis).

By the conclusion of the course of study, candidates will:

Syllabus objective	Unit 1	Unit 2	Unit 3	Unit 4
1. comprehend Indonesian to understand information, ideas, opinions and experiences	•	•	•	•
2. identify tone , purpose, context and audience to infer meaning, values and attitudes	•	•	•	•
3. analyse and evaluate information and ideas to draw conclusions and justify opinions, ideas and perspectives	•	•	•	•
4. apply knowledge of Indonesian language elements , structures and textual conventions to convey meaning appropriate to context , purpose, audience and cultural conventions	•	•	•	•
5. structure , sequence and synthesise information to justify opinions, ideas and perspectives	•	•	•	•
6. use strategies to maintain communication and exchange meaning in Indonesian	•	•	•	•

1. comprehend Indonesian to understand information, ideas, opinions and experiences

When candidates comprehend Indonesian to understand information, ideas, opinions and experiences, they respond to Indonesian texts in contexts and determine meaning.

2. identify tone, purpose, context and audience to infer meaning, values and attitudes

When candidates identify tone, purpose, context and audience, they use and synthesise linguistic and cultural knowledge to identify language elements and structures to examine meaning, values, attitudes and beliefs.

3. analyse and evaluate information and ideas to draw conclusions and justify opinions, ideas and perspectives

When candidates analyse and evaluate information and ideas to draw conclusions and justify opinions, they identify gist, key points, and detail to develop a point of view.

4. apply knowledge of Indonesian language elements, structures and textual conventions to convey meaning appropriate to context, purpose, audience and cultural conventions

When candidates apply knowledge of language elements, structures and textual conventions to create texts, they retrieve and synthesise their knowledge of Indonesian to construct, communicate, exchange and convey meaning.

5. structure, sequence and synthesise information to justify opinions, ideas and perspectives

When candidates structure, sequence and synthesise information to exchange and justify opinions, ideas and perspectives in Indonesian, they organise language elements to explain and transmit information and ideas.

6. use strategies to maintain communication and exchange meaning in Indonesian.

When candidates use strategies to maintain communication in Indonesian, they retrieve and synthesise knowledge and skills of language and culture to generate and sustain the exchange of meaning.

1.2.2 Underpinning factors

There are three skill sets that underpin senior syllabuses and are essential for defining the distinctive nature of subjects:

- literacy — the set of knowledge and skills about language and texts essential for understanding and conveying Indonesian content
- numeracy — the knowledge, skills, behaviours and dispositions that candidates need to use mathematics in a wide range of situations, to recognise and understand the role of mathematics in the world, and to develop the dispositions and capacities to use mathematical knowledge and skills purposefully
- 21st century skills — the attributes and skills candidates need to prepare them for higher education, work and engagement in a complex and rapidly changing world.

These skill sets, which overlap and interact, are derived from current education, industry and community expectations. They encompass the knowledge, skills, capabilities, behaviours and dispositions that will help candidates live and work successfully in the 21st century.

Together these three skill sets shape the development of senior subject syllabuses. Although coverage of each skill set may vary from syllabus to syllabus, candidates should be provided with opportunities to learn through and about these skills over the course of study. Each skill set contains identifiable knowledge and skills that can be directly assessed.

Literacy in Indonesian

Literacy is the set of knowledge and skills about language and texts that is essential for understanding and conveying information in Indonesian. Ongoing systematic teaching and learning focused on the literacy knowledge and skills specific to Indonesian is essential for candidate achievement. This includes knowledge of the nature and structure of letters, spelling conventions, and punctuation and their application to communicate effectively.

Candidates need to learn and use the knowledge and skills of reading, viewing and listening to understand and acquire the Indonesian language. Candidates need to learn and use the knowledge and skills of writing, composing and speaking to convey information in Indonesian.

To understand and use literacy skills in Indonesian, teaching and learning strategies include:

- comprehending language and texts to make literal and inferred meanings from Indonesian texts
- using Indonesian in educational settings, real-world and/or lifelike contexts to progress their own learning.

To analyse and evaluate Indonesian texts, teaching and learning strategies include:

- using Indonesian to convey ideas and information in particular ways to suit audience and purpose
- analysing the ways language is used to convey ideas and information in Indonesian texts
- drawing conclusions about the purpose and audience of Indonesian texts.

These aspects of literacy knowledge and skills are embedded in the syllabus objectives, unit objectives and subject matter for Indonesian.

Numeracy in Indonesian

Numeracy is about using mathematics to make sense of the world and applying mathematics in a context for a social purpose.

Numeracy encompasses the knowledge, skills, behaviours and dispositions that candidates need to use mathematics in a wide range of situations, to recognise and understand the role of mathematics in the world and to develop the dispositions and capacities to use mathematical knowledge and skills purposefully.

Although much of the explicit teaching of numeracy skills occurs in Mathematics, being numerate involves using mathematical skills across the curriculum. Therefore, numeracy development is an essential component of teaching and learning across the curriculum and a responsibility for all examiners.

To understand and use numeracy skills in Indonesian, teaching and learning strategies include:

- identifying specific mathematical information in Indonesian texts
- providing learning experiences and opportunities that support the application of candidates' general mathematical knowledge and problem-solving processes
- communicating and representing the language of numeracy in teaching, as appropriate.

These aspects of numeracy knowledge and skills are embedded in the syllabus objectives, unit objectives and subject matter.

21st century skills

The 21st century skills identified in the following table reflect a common agreement, both in Australia and internationally, on the skills and attributes candidates need to prepare them for higher education, work and engagement in a complex and rapidly changing world.

21st century skills	Associated skills	21st century skills	Associated skills critical thinking	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • analytical thinking • problem-solving • decision-making • reasoning • reflecting and evaluating • intellectual flexibility 	creative thinking	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • innovation • initiative and enterprise • curiosity and imagination • creativity • generating and applying new ideas • identifying alternatives • seeing or making new links
communication	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • effective oral and written communication • using language, symbols and texts • communicating ideas effectively with diverse audiences 	collaboration and teamwork	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • relating to others (interacting with others) • recognising and using diverse perspectives • participating and contributing • community connections
personal and social skills	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • adaptability/flexibility • management (self, career, time, planning and organising) • character (resilience, mindfulness, open- and fair-mindedness, self-awareness) • leadership • citizenship • cultural awareness • ethical (and moral) understanding 	information & communication technologies (ICT) skills	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • operations and concepts • accessing and analysing information • being productive users of technology • digital citizenship (being safe, positive and responsible online)

Indonesian helps develop the following 21st century skills:

- critical thinking
- communication
- personal and social skills
- creative thinking
- collaboration and teamwork
- information & communication technologies (ICT) skills.

These elements of 21st century skills are embedded in the syllabus objectives, unit objectives and subject matter for Indonesian.

1.2.3 Aboriginal perspectives and Torres Strait Islander perspectives

The QCAA is committed to reconciliation in Australia. As part of its commitment, the QCAA affirms that:

- Aboriginal peoples and Torres Strait Islander peoples are the first Australians, and have the oldest living cultures in human history
- Aboriginal peoples and Torres Strait Islander peoples have strong cultural traditions and speak diverse languages and dialects, other than Standard Australian English
- teaching and learning in Queensland educational settings should provide opportunities for candidates to deepen their knowledge of Australia by engaging with the perspectives of Aboriginal peoples and Torres Strait Islander peoples
- positive outcomes for Aboriginal candidates and Torres Strait Islander candidates are supported by successfully embedding Aboriginal perspectives and Torres Strait Islander perspectives across planning, teaching and assessing candidate achievement.

Guidelines about Aboriginal perspectives and Torres Strait Islander perspectives and resources for teaching are available at www.qcaa.qld.edu.au/k-12-policies/aboriginal-torres-strait-islander-perspectives.

Where appropriate, Aboriginal perspectives and Torres Strait Islander perspectives have been embedded in the subject matter.

Languages foster and sustain cultures, identities and communities. Through the study and acquisition of an additional language, candidates learn to value other identities and cultures as well as their own.

As the custodians of Australia's first languages, Australian Aboriginal peoples and Torres Strait Islander peoples are important members of the Australian community, whose cultures and perspectives have been sustained for over 50 000 years. For learners of Indonesian, study that recognises the diversity and specificity of Aboriginal identities and Torres Strait Islander identities — through histories, traditional and contemporary cultures, lifestyles and values — provides further insight into the complexity and uniqueness of Australian identity in the present day.

When learning Indonesian, examiners should consider the context of the local area and community. The place of Aboriginal cultures and languages and Torres Strait Islander cultures and languages should be acknowledged, and authentic connections to Aboriginal communities and Torres Strait Islander communities made. Candidates can explore Aboriginal perspectives and Torres Strait Islander perspectives in a number of contexts, such as lifestyle, leisure, travel, roles and relationships, and groups in society.

1.2.4 Pedagogical and conceptual frameworks

Language acquisition occurs in communicative contexts: communication encompasses the exchange and negotiation of meaning, drawing on awareness of intercultural understanding and cultural conventions.

Candidates acquire language through the purposeful and meaningful use of that language. Exchanges of information and ideas are authentic and relevant to the learner; candidates practise receptive, interactive and productive exchanges of information in communicative and age-appropriate contexts. Through engagement with a range of Indonesian texts, candidates will demonstrate communicative and cognitive facility and a capacity to create and comprehend texts in Indonesian.

The syllabus objectives for Indonesian are interrelated and interdependent. They reflect the nature of Indonesian language acquisition in a communicative and cultural context. To effectively engage candidates in exchanging ideas, information and opinions, the teaching and learning experiences for Indonesian need to encompass a variety and range of modes, media and formats. Candidates and examiners are encouraged to interact in Indonesian as the language of the educational setting. Active language use, in a variety of meaningful everyday situations and contexts, fosters an understanding and appreciation of Indonesian language, culture, and their interrelationships.

Teaching and learning experiences should support candidate engagement. Exchanges in and engagement with Indonesian are meaningful when teaching and learning experiences allow for:

- retrieval of knowledge of language elements and textual conventions to understand and create texts
- consideration of context and cultural conventions to construct and engage with a range of written, spoken and visual text types
- development and organisation of information in a cohesive manner to communicate, explain and transmit ideas and demonstrate intercultural understanding
- synthesis of knowledge and skills to generate and sustain the exchange of meaning
- use of linguistic, textual and cultural knowledge for the analysis and creation of texts
- interpretation, analysis, comparison and evaluation of information and ideas to draw conclusions and justify opinions in responding to texts
- identification of information, ideas and textual elements to develop points of view
- recognition and appreciation of variations within languages that reflect cultural and community diversity.

Educational providers and candidates should develop learning experiences that allow candidates the opportunity to:

- analyse texts
- create texts
- exchange information and ideas.

These opportunities should cover unit objectives contextualised to the subject matter and requirements of each unit.

Educational providers and candidates should ensure that there is a balance of:

- modes
- subject matter
- objectives.

Candidates should engage with:

- listening, reading and viewing, with responses to
 - short items in English and Indonesian
 - extended responses, paragraphs and/or short sentences in English and/or Indonesian
- speaking and writing, with responses
 - in a wide variety of text types for each mode
 - across the different media or forms of technology, where possible
 - in Indonesian to Indonesian stimulus texts
- exchanges of information in Indonesian.

In this way, each candidate develops their capacity to listen, read, speak, view and write in Indonesian. Because candidates develop the capacity to listen, read, speak, view and write in Indonesian unevenly, it is important that opportunities to demonstrate analysis, evaluation, drawing conclusions and the justification of opinions, ideas and perspectives be provided through responses in both English and Indonesian.

Educational providers or candidates develop a course of study that balances learning and assessment so that candidates can easily move between the experiences in an educational setting and assessment of those experiences. This will allow educational providers or candidates to identify the most appropriate ways to improve language acquisition and monitor individual performance in relation to the syllabus objectives.

Use of dictionaries

Dictionaries are an important tool in the acquisition of an additional language. Knowing how to use a dictionary is a necessary skill for learners of an additional language. The use of a dictionary is one of the problem-solving strategies employed by language learners and is useful for mediating conceptual meaning. Dictionaries may also be used for confirming literal meaning where a word or phrase is not known by a candidate. Dictionaries are important for maintaining communication in exchanges of information but their use should not hinder or impede the immediacy and spontaneity of an exchange.

The use of a dictionary is not an assessable skill, and dictionaries will not be used for Senior external examination in this syllabus.

Educational providers or candidates can determine the dictionary to be used for formative assessments.

1.2.5 Subject matter

Subject matter is the body of information, mental procedures and psychomotor procedures (see Marzano & Kendall 2007, 2008) that are necessary for candidates' learning and engagement with Indonesian. It is particular to each unit in the course of study and provides the basis for candidate learning experiences.

Subject matter has a direct relationship to the unit objectives, but is of a finer granularity and is more specific. These statements of learning are constructed in a similar way to objectives. Each statement:

- describes an action (or combination of actions) — what the candidate is expected to do
- describes the element — expressed as information, mental procedures and/or psychomotor procedures
- is contextualised for the topic or circumstance particular to the unit.

Organisation of subject matter

Subject matter in this syllabus is organised as topics.

Candidates acquire Indonesian through engagement with the subject matter, using the mandatory language elements to respond to and create texts in relation to the unit topics. The subject matter and assessment in this syllabus requires candidates to use Indonesian.

This is an iterative process. Across the four units, candidates should be given the opportunity to understand and create a wide range of text types.

Resources related to subject matter should support candidate acquisition of Indonesian and understanding of the culture of Indonesian people and Indonesian-speaking communities.

Therefore, resources and stimulus texts should be authentic; however, texts may be adapted for use in the educational setting to allow candidate access to ideas and information where expressions are beyond the language acquisition level of a cohort.

An integrated approach to teaching subject matter should be incorporated into the analysis and creation of Indonesian texts. In a communicative language acquisition course, language elements should not be taught discretely, but should be integrated into the creation and analysis of Indonesian texts.

Candidate acquisition of communicative Indonesian will allow the cumulative engagement with subject matter to be demonstrated through analysis and evaluation of ideas and information in texts and through the creation of texts that convey and exchange meaning.

Unit duration is provided as advice for educational settings or candidates, to inform the depth and balance of coverage of each topic covered. Examples are provided as guidance for resource selection and are not exhaustive.

While educational providers may use in-class formative assessment addressing specific topics, it is expected that candidates will demonstrate their knowledge and skills in the external assessments.

Mandatory language elements

The syllabus provides the mandatory language elements for Indonesian. A working knowledge of these elements supports candidates in their development of learning the subject matter.

Candidates will be exposed to the mandatory language elements across Units 1 and 2 of the course of study. Learning experiences across the four units will provide the opportunity for candidates to acquire communicative language capacity using these language elements. Candidates will then be required to demonstrate their capacity to use these language elements.

In the mandatory language elements below, examples of sentences or phrases are given to highlight grammatical usage, rather than to indicate particular vocabulary. Other language elements may be added.

Language elements	Examples in Indonesian
Acronyms and abbreviations
Note: Candidates should be familiar with the various structures and use of acronyms and abbreviations in Indonesian. The following acronyms and abbreviations are examples in common usage.
PUSKESMAS	community health centres
balita	under five years old
ortu	parents
HP	mobile phone
DEPDIKBUD	Department of Education and Culture
Adverbs
dengan (adjective)	dengan baik, dengan terburu-buru
se + nya	setinggi-tingginya, sesungguhnya, secepat-cepatnya, sebaiknya, secukupnya, seharusnya
Types
• negations	tidak, bukan, belum
Colloquial expressions
Note: The following expressions are examples only. Expressions covered should be relevant to the context in which they are used and may change over time. Check for current usage.

Text selection

Text selection is an educational provider–based decision and should reflect the interests and needs of candidates.

Throughout the course of study, candidates should be provided with opportunities to engage with a wide range of texts to encourage their development as language learners and users. Texts selected for the course of study may be analytical, descriptive, informative, narrative, persuasive, satirical and comedic and transactional texts.

There should be a range and balance in the texts that candidates read, listen to and view, which embody the intercultural nature of language. The course should include texts designed for different purposes and audiences, and delivered through different media.

Text types

Texts are classified by the purpose/s they are designed to achieve, which influence the characteristic features the texts employ, such as language, structure and mode of communication. Classifications are sometimes ambiguous or overlapping; they may include analytical, comedic, descriptive, informative, narrative, persuasive, procedural, satirical, transactional texts, among others.

Analytical texts develop an argument, make a judgment or advance an interpretation. They do this by identifying, examining and drawing conclusions about the elements or components that make up other texts, e.g. short essays, research reports.

Descriptive texts explain the features or characteristics of something, including a range of details, often with affective or sensory description. The purpose is to invite perception, empathy or visualisation (of people, places, or emotions), e.g. travel blogs, film reviews.

Informative texts convey factual content to educate or inform. Sub-types of informational texts include:

- explanatory texts, which present factual information with details to elucidate. The purpose is to invite developed understanding (of an action or event), e.g. annotations on a building plan or map, travel brochures
- procedural texts, which lay out a series of steps to be followed in a set order to complete a task, e.g. recipes, directions to a point of interest.

Narrative texts tell a story through a series of related events or experiences. Narrative texts use aesthetic features to provoke audience or reader responses, e.g. fairytales, novels, feature films.

Persuasive texts put forward a point of view to influence an audience. They may do this explicitly with argument and justification, or implicitly through the use of purposefully selected textual features, e.g. speeches, advertisements.

Satirical and comedic texts make fun of or mock people, events or concepts, or tell jokes, for the purposes of entertainment or social comment, e.g. satirical cartoons, comedy series.

Transactional texts occur in situations between two or more people, often involving negotiation or discussion, to achieve an outcome, e.g. conversations to purchase a product, a series of emails to organise a time and place for a meeting.

1.3 Assessment — general information

Assessments are formative in Units 1 and 2, and summative in Units 3 and 4.

Assessment	Unit 1	Unit 2	Unit 3	Unit 4
Formative assessments	•	•
Senior external examination 1			•	•

1.3.1 Formative assessments — Units 1 and 2

The sequencing, scope and scale of formative assessments for Units 1 and 2 are matters for each educational provider or individual candidate to decide. If this syllabus is delivered in a school setting, teachers are encouraged to use the A–E descriptors in the reporting standards to provide formative feedback to candidates and to report on progress.

Examiners are encouraged to use the A–E descriptors in the reporting standards to provide formative feedback to candidates and to report on progress.

1.3.2 Summative assessments — Units 3 and 4

Candidates will complete a total of two senior external examinations, both of which will count towards their final mark in this subject.

The senior external examinations provide the evidence of achievement for a candidate's profile. External assessment is:

- common to all candidates
- administered under the same conditions at the same time and on the same day
- developed and marked by the QCAA according to a commonly applied marking scheme.

The external assessments contribute 100% to the candidate's result in Indonesian.

1.4 Reporting standards

Reporting standards are summary statements that succinctly describe typical performance at each of the five levels (A–E). They reflect the cognitive taxonomy and objectives of the course of study.

The primary purpose of reporting standards is for twice-yearly reporting on candidate progress. These descriptors can also be used to help examiners provide formative feedback to candidates.

The candidate, in responding to and creating texts in a range of contexts, demonstrates fragmented understanding of information in Indonesian, and fragmented application of knowledge of Indonesian language elements, structures and textual conventions.

2 Unit 1: Duniaku — My world

2.1 Unit description

In Unit 1, candidates compare and contrast lifestyles and education in Australian and Indonesian-speaking communities, homes and peer-group contexts. They communicate their understanding and experiences of relationships through the use of information and ideas in texts and language, such as formal and informal spoken language, and develop a variety of strategies to maintain communication. Candidates generate and compare information about their own and others' personal identities, and the cultural values related to personal and wider community lifestyles, leisure and education.

The subject matter engages candidates with aspects of language and textual conventions — to communicate similarities and differences, and to develop opinions about the lives and interests of young people — in familiar and unfamiliar educational and home environments.

Unit requirements

In Unit 1, Duniaku — My world, subject matter is organised into three topics that require a notional 55 hours of teaching, learning and assessment in total, with a suggested:

- 15 hours on Unit 1 Topic 1: Family/carers and friends
- 40 hours on Unit 1 Topic 2: Lifestyle and leisure and Unit 1 Topic 3: Education.

Suggestions for Indonesian resources and texts are incorporated in the subject matter.

2.2 Unit objectives

Unit objectives are drawn from the syllabus objectives and are contextualised for the subject matter and requirements of the unit. Each unit objective must be assessed at least once.

Candidates will:

1. comprehend Indonesian to understand information, ideas, opinions and experiences related to family/carers, friendships, lifestyle, leisure and education
2. identify tone, purpose, context and audience to infer meaning, values and attitudes related to family/carers, friendships, lifestyle, leisure and education
3. analyse and evaluate information and ideas to draw conclusions and justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to family/carers, friendships, lifestyle, leisure and education
4. apply knowledge of Indonesian language elements, structures and textual conventions to convey meaning appropriate to context, purpose, audience and cultural conventions related to family/carers, friendships, lifestyle, leisure and education
5. structure, sequence and synthesise information to justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to family/carers, friendships, lifestyle, leisure and education
6. use strategies to maintain communication and exchange meaning in Indonesian to discuss family/carers, friendships, lifestyle, leisure and education with peers and Indonesian-speaking community members.

2.3 Topic 1: Family/carers and friends

Subject matter

In creating and evaluating Indonesian texts, candidates will:

- consider and create introductions in a variety of age-appropriate settings in their own and Indonesian-speaking communities, e.g. introduce and describe themselves and others in a variety of settings and text types
- comment on the similarities and differences in family/carers, friends and daily life in their own and Indonesian-speaking communities, e.g. compare family/carer structures, discuss relationships with family/carers or siblings, create explanatory texts about family/carers, friends and daily life.

2.4 Topic 2: Lifestyle and leisure

Subject matter

In creating and evaluating Indonesian texts, candidates will:

- consider how interests, traditions, events and celebrations impact on family/carer identity, community connections and cultural values in their own and Indonesian-speaking communities, e.g. research and compare significant events, leisure activities or sports in Indonesian-speaking communities and Australia
- compare and contrast lifestyle and leisure for themselves and their peers in Indonesian-speaking communities, e.g. negotiate leisure activity arrangements; compare what is considered a healthy lifestyle
- appraise the diversity of celebrations in their social sphere and those of their peers in Indonesian-speaking communities, e.g. give reasons for family/carer activity preferences and/or values.

2.5 Topic 3: Education

Subject matter

In creating and evaluating Indonesian texts, candidates will:

- compare and explain education experiences, e.g. compare education systems, educational expectations and/or traditions
- analyse perspectives on the benefits and challenges of study, e.g. contrast experiences of peers in a variety of educational contexts in Australia and Indonesian-speaking communities
- assess a variety of texts comparing education systems in Indonesian-speaking communities and Australia, e.g. discuss values and attitudes towards education, educational expectations and/or traditions, and societal and cultural factors.

2.6 Assessment guidance

If this syllabus is delivered in an educational setting, providers should ensure that the objectives cover, or are chosen from, the unit objectives. If one formative assessment instrument is developed for a unit, it must assess all the unit objectives; if more than one formative assessment instrument is developed, the unit objectives must be covered across those instruments.

3 Unit 2: Menjelajahi dunia kita — Exploring our world

3.1 Unit description

In Unit 2, candidates move beyond their personal world to how they engage with the world. They do this by exploring options for personal travel and tourism in Indonesian-speaking communities and Australia, and by considering the associated cultural conventions. Their study focuses on the increasingly central role and impact of technology and media in their own lives and the lives of Indonesian-speaking peers. Candidates consider the ways that Indonesian culture has contributed to the world, and reflect upon their experiences, compare options and express preferences, while appreciating diverse cultural values. This provides the opportunity to develop knowledge and understanding of a range of language elements and textual structures; to communicate similarities and differences; and to develop opinions about travel, technology and media, and the contribution of Indonesian culture in the wider world.

Unit requirements

In Unit 2, Menjelajahi dunia kita — Exploring our world, subject matter is organised into three topics that require a notional 55 hours of teaching, learning and assessment in total, with a minimum of 5 hours on any single topic:

- Unit 2 Topic 1: Travel
- Unit 2 Topic 2: Technology and media
- Unit 2 Topic 3: The contribution of Indonesian culture to the world.

Suggestions for Indonesian resources and texts are incorporated in the subject matter.

3.2 Unit objectives

Unit objectives are drawn from the syllabus objectives and are contextualised for the subject matter and requirements of the unit. Each unit objective must be assessed at least once.

Candidates will:

1. comprehend Indonesian to understand information, ideas, opinions and experiences related to travel, technology, media and Indonesian culture
2. identify tone, purpose, context and audience to infer meaning, values and attitudes related to travel, technology, media and Indonesian culture
3. analyse and evaluate information and ideas to draw conclusions and justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to travel, technology, media and Indonesian culture
4. apply knowledge of Indonesian language elements, structures and textual conventions to convey meaning appropriate to context, purpose, audience and cultural conventions related to travel, technology, media and Indonesian culture
5. structure, sequence and synthesise information to justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to travel, technology, media and Indonesian culture
6. use strategies to maintain communication and exchange meaning in Indonesian to discuss travel, technology, media and Indonesian culture with peers and Indonesian-speaking community members.

3.3 Topic 1: Travel

Subject matter

In creating and evaluating Indonesian texts, candidates will:

- describe personal travel and tourism in Indonesian-speaking communities and Australia, e.g. identify places candidates have visited, recognise places of interest to Indonesian-speakers and/or highlights of Indonesian-speaking communities and Australian destinations (including places that are significant to Indigenous cultures)
- consider conversations related to travel options and experiences in Indonesian-speaking communities, e.g. contrast cultural conventions associated with travel experiences
- analyse trends in travel and their impact, e.g. consider economic, environmental and/or security factors; compare types of tourism and marketing, e.g. ecotourism, sharing economy, extreme tourism, volunteer tourism
- evaluate tourist destinations by reflecting on travel experiences and the importance of travel, e.g. comment on the reasons for and attitudes towards travelling and/or popular destinations and events
- investigate the significant features of a famous destination or event, e.g. identify geographical, historical and/or cultural features of a Indonesian destination or event; comment on the similarities and differences between significant sites in Australia
- justify decisions about travel options for specific audiences, e.g. discuss guidelines, rules, laws and expectations of travellers and the resulting recommendations for different groups.

3.4 Topic 2: Technology and media

Subject matter

In creating and evaluating Indonesian texts, candidates will:

- consider the central role of technology in their own lives and the lives of Indonesian-speaking peers, e.g. compare and contrast the ways they connect and acquire new information; identify ways technology has made travel easier or more accessible
- assess the impact of, and trends in, technology with regards to young people in the 21st century society, e.g. investigate the advantages and disadvantages of using technology to communicate and/or access information
- appraise the effects of technology and media on their own world view and on the world view of Indonesian-speaking peers, e.g. evaluate the positive and negative effects of their own use of technology; discuss how the rapid transfer of news and information (substantiated and not) influences their world view.

3.5 Topic 3: The contribution of Indonesian culture to the world

Subject matter

In creating and evaluating Indonesian texts, candidates will:

- identify how Indonesian traditional culture is maintained in the modern world, e.g. describe festivals, events, rites of passage and community celebrations
- analyse how aspects of Indonesian culture have made diverse contributions around the world, e.g. consider to what extent Indonesian culture is present in the local community and the reasons why
- investigate significant/prominent Indonesian speaker/s and their contribution to linguistic/cultural identity, e.g. summarise significant/prominent Indonesian speaker/s influence on the arts (music, film, literature or digital), sports or broader community.

3.6 Assessment guidance

If this syllabus is delivered in an educational setting, providers should ensure that the objectives cover, or are chosen from, the unit objectives. If one formative assessment instrument is developed for a unit, it must assess all the unit objectives; if more than one formative assessment instrument is developed, the unit objectives must be covered across those instruments. Candidates should be able to demonstrate their ability across the unit objectives, unit topics and the mandatory language elements.

4 Unit 3: Masyarakat kita — Our society

4.1 Unit description

In Unit 3, candidates investigate their place in society. They reflect on roles and relationships in society and how they and their peers retain a sense of connectedness and belonging. Consideration is also given to stereotyping of groups in the community and how identity is linked or challenged by membership of these groups in their own and Indonesian-speaking communities. They learn how to express opinions about pressures and social expectations among their peers. As they comprehend, analyse, interpret and consider topics affecting their current and future society, candidates develop knowledge and understanding of a range of language elements. Candidates deepen their appreciation of cultural perspectives, as they are offered opportunities to use Indonesian to synthesise how society impacts on themselves and their peers.

Unit requirements

In Unit 3, Masyarakat kita — Our society, subject matter is organised into three topics that require a notional 55 hours of teaching, learning and assessment in total, with a suggested:

- 15 hours on Unit 3 Topic 1: Roles and relationships
- 40 hours across Unit 3 Topic 2: Socialising and connecting with my peers and Unit 3 Topic 3: Groups in society.

Suggestions for Indonesian resources and texts are incorporated in the subject matter.

4.2 Unit objectives

Unit objectives are drawn from the syllabus objectives and are contextualised for the subject matter and requirements of the unit. Each unit objective must be assessed at least once.

Candidates will:

Unit objective	SEE 1	SEE 2
1. comprehend Indonesian to understand information, ideas, opinions and experiences related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas	•	•
2. identify tone , purpose, context and audience to infer meaning, values and attitudes related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas	•	•

6. use strategies to maintain communication and exchange meaning in Indonesian to discuss relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas with peers and Indonesian-speaking community members.	•

4.3 Topic 1: Roles and relationships

Subject matter

In creating and evaluating Indonesian texts, candidates will:

- recognise the diversity of roles and relationships as portrayed in a variety of media, e.g. summarise personal accounts detailing the evolving nature of family/carers, identify stereotypical versus actual family/carers and/or gender roles
- consider the concept of the individual and how different factors influence their perceptions of themselves and their place in society, e.g. compare and contrast how relationship status, cultural norms, social media and peer pressure impact self-image
- comment on the changing structure of the family/carer unit, stereotypical roles in society and gender bias in their own and Indonesian-speaking communities in the 21st century, as represented in texts and media, e.g. summarise the differences and similarities of traditional social structures, cultural expectations and employment opportunities between home and Indonesian-speaking communities.

4.4 Topic 2: Socialising and connecting with my peers

Subject matter

In creating and evaluating Indonesian texts, candidates will:

- identify and describe how they and their Indonesian-speaking peers socialise and connect with each other, e.g. summarise the opportunities available, describe specific activities and barriers to socialising and connecting
- compare the opportunities and challenges for young people in maintaining a sense of connectedness, e.g. determine societal expectations and definitions of success and the impact on young peoples' sense of belonging
- analyse the impact of socialising and connecting with their peers, e.g. consider the nature of connectedness with their peers in their own and Indonesian-speaking communities
- discuss and advise peers on issues that affect young people and are impacted by their cultural values and beliefs, e.g. consider topics such as youth health, addiction and harassment.

4.5 Topic 3: Groups in society

Subject matter

In creating and evaluating Indonesian texts, candidates will:

- identify how young people in their own and Indonesian-speaking communities represent their perspectives and uniqueness by joining groups with particular identities, appearances, and interests, e.g. participating in community service organisations and support groups for those in need
- investigate news items impacting on young people, e.g. comment on the effect of world events on their lives and how they develop opinions and/or make decisions
- evaluate the impact of 'the group' and 'the individual' in terms of independence, individuality and responsibility, e.g. appraise the impact of societal expectations/conventions on their life and those of Indonesian-speaking peers.

4.6 Assessment

4.6.1 Senior external examination 1 (SEE 1): Examination (25%)

General information

Senior external examination is developed and marked by the QCAA. In Indonesian, it contributes 100% to a candidate's overall subject result. This assessment contributes 25% of that result.

The external assessment in Indonesian is common to all candidates and administered under the same conditions, on a given date, and at a specified time.

This examination is divided into two sections:

Section 1: Extended response — Multimodal

Criterion: Analysing Indonesian texts in Indonesian — a prepared, individual, multimodal response to Indonesian stimulus texts

Section 2: Extended response — Spoken

Criterion: Exchanging information and ideas in Indonesian — an individual spoken response to unseen open-ended follow-up questions in an examiner–candidate conversation in Indonesian.

4.6.2 Senior external examination 2 (SEE 2): Examination (75%)

General information

Senior external examination is developed and marked by the QCAA. In Indonesian, it contributes 100% to a candidate's overall subject result. This assessment contributes 75% of that result.

The external assessment in Indonesian is common to all candidates and administered under the same conditions, at the same time, on the same day.

This examination is a combination of extended and short responses in English and Indonesian.

5 Unit 4: Masa depan saya — My future

5.1 Unit description

In Unit 4, candidates focus on their future pathways. This includes end-of-study celebrations, candidates' plans for their immediate future and how these plans, responsibilities and aspirations compare with those of young Indonesian speakers. As candidates research and discuss, and then create texts relevant to those completing their education, they consolidate their knowledge and understanding of a range of language elements, structures and text types. Candidates are offered opportunities to use Indonesian, to explore their perspectives on issues relevant to their futures and to the futures of their peers, and to reflect on the next phase of their lives.

Unit requirements

In Unit 4, Masa depan saya — My future, subject matter is organised into two topics that require a notional 55 hours of teaching, learning and assessment in total, with a suggested:

- 27 hours on Unit 4 Topic 1: Future pathways, plans and reflections
- 28 hours on Unit 4 Topic 2: Responsibilities and moving on.

Suggestions for Indonesian resources and texts are incorporated in the subject matter.

5.2 Unit objectives

Unit objectives are drawn from the syllabus objectives and are contextualised for the subject matter and requirements of the unit. Each unit objective must be assessed at least once.

Candidates will:

Unit objective	SEE 1	SEE 2
1. comprehend Indonesian to understand information, ideas, opinions and experiences related to completing their education, future plans and responsibilities	•	•
2. identify tone , purpose, context and audience to infer meaning, values and attitudes related to completing their education, future plans and responsibilities	•	•
3. analyse and evaluate information and ideas to draw conclusions and justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to completing their education, future plans and responsibilities	•	•
4. apply knowledge of Indonesian language elements , structures and textual conventions to convey meaning appropriate to context , purpose, audience and cultural conventions related to completing their education, future plans and responsibilities	•	•
5. structure , sequence and synthesise information to justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to completing their education, future plans and responsibilities	•	•
6. use strategies to maintain communication and exchange meaning in Indonesian to discuss completing their education, future plans and responsibilities with peers and Indonesian-speaking community members.	•

5.3 Topic 1: Future pathways, plans and reflections

Subject matter

In creating and evaluating Indonesian texts, candidates will:

- reflect on the next phase of their lives, e.g. describe the significance of graduation ceremonies and end-of-study celebrations in Australian and Indonesian-speaking communities; explain their achievements, challenges and experiences as a candidate
- consider the role of Indonesian in their future, e.g. explore the opportunities for future study, travel, employment and career prospects
- discuss a variety of perspectives about completing their education and plans for the future, e.g. summarise their plans for travel, study and careers and the factors that impact on these decisions
- comment on personal feelings about their experiences and the relationships they most valued, and what they will miss as they complete their education, e.g. advise future candidates on what they wish they had known and/or done differently.

5.4 Topic 2: Responsibilities and moving on

Subject matter

In creating and evaluating Indonesian texts, candidates will:

- compare and contrast employment prospects and post-study options in their own and Indonesian-speaking communities, e.g. consider study and job opportunities in a range of Indonesian-speaking communities and the associated economic factors (cost of living, accommodation)
- discuss the considerations associated with creating a more independent life for themselves and Indonesian-speaking peers, e.g. offer advice to their peers on study and employment
- comment on their own concerns relating to the responsibilities they face as they enter the next phase of their lives, e.g. discuss the kind of person they aspire to be and the impact they hope to have on others/the world.

5.5 Assessment

5.5.1 Senior external examination 1 (SEE 1): Examination (25%)

General information

Senior external examination is developed and marked by the QCAA. In Indonesian, it contributes 100% to a candidate's overall subject result. This assessment contributes 25% of that result.

The external assessment in Indonesian is common to all candidates and administered under the same conditions, on a given date, and at a specified time.

This examination is divided into two sections:

Section 1: Extended response — Multimodal

Criterion: Analysing Indonesian texts in Indonesian — a prepared, individual, multimodal response to Indonesian stimulus texts

Section 2: Extended response — Spoken

Criterion: Exchanging information and ideas in Indonesian — an individual spoken response to unseen open-ended follow-up questions in an examiner–candidate conversation in Indonesian.

Section 1: Extended response — Multimodal

Description

Senior external examination 1, Section 1, assesses subject matter selected from:

- Unit 3 Topic 1: Roles and relationships
- Unit 3 Topic 2: Socialising and connecting with my peers
- Unit 3 Topic 3: Groups in society
- Unit 4 Topic 1: Future pathways, plans and reflections
- Unit 4 Topic 2: Responsibilities and moving on.

This assessment focuses on the communication and exchange of ideas and information. It is an open-ended task responding to three to five QCAA-provided Indonesian stimulus texts. While candidates may undertake some research when developing the extended response, it is not the focus of this technique.

Candidate responses must be completed individually and in a set timeframe.

Candidates may choose to support their response with additional resources as incorporated into their multimodal presentation for the assessment; these do not form part of the stimulus for the task.

Assessment objectives

This assessment is used to determine candidate achievement in the following criteria and associated objectives.

1. comprehend Indonesian to understand information, ideas, opinions and experiences related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, and/or future plans and responsibilities
2. identify tone, purpose, context and audience to infer meaning, values and attitudes related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
3. analyse and evaluate information and ideas to draw conclusions and justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
4. apply knowledge of Indonesian language elements, structures and textual conventions to convey meaning appropriate to context, purpose, audience and cultural conventions related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
5. structure, sequence and synthesise information to justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
6. use strategies to maintain communication and exchange meaning in Indonesian to discuss relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities with peers and Indonesian-speaking community members

Specifications

This section requires candidates to:

- respond to three to five Indonesian stimulus texts provided by the QCAA
- analyse and synthesise the stimulus texts to identify different perspectives
- structure, sequence and synthesise their individual response over a six-week period.

The three to five stimulus texts will:

- cover a range of text types
- be authentic
- be related to Unit 3 and Unit 4 subject matter.

The candidate's response:

- must be a prepared, individual, multimodal presentation of 8–10 minutes in Indonesian
- may be supported by notes
- must offer a personal response, including their own perspectives, on the ideas and information offered in the QCAA-provided stimulus texts
- will be recorded as evidence of the quality of the response and be made available for quality assurance processes.

Conditions

- Duration: 6 weeks notification and preparation with QCAA-provided stimulus.
- Length: 8–10 minutes in Indonesian.

Section 2: Extended response — Spoken

Description

Senior external examination 1, Section 2, assesses subject matter selected from:

Unit 3 Topic 1: Roles and relationships

Unit 3 Topic 2: Socialising and connecting with my peers

Unit 3 Topic 3: Groups in society

Unit 4 Topic 1: Future pathways, plans and reflections

Unit 4 Topic 2: Responsibilities and moving on.

Assessment objectives

This assessment is used to determine candidate achievement in the following criteria and associated objectives.

1. comprehend Indonesian to understand information, ideas, opinions and experiences related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, and/or future plans and responsibilities
2. identify tone, purpose, context and audience to infer meaning, values and attitudes related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
3. analyse and evaluate information and ideas to draw conclusions and justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
4. apply knowledge of Indonesian language elements, structures and textual conventions to convey meaning appropriate to context, purpose, audience and cultural conventions related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
5. structure, sequence and synthesise information to justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
6. use strategies to maintain communication and exchange meaning in Indonesian to discuss relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities with peers and Indonesian-speaking community members

Specifications

This section requires candidates to respond spontaneously to unseen open-ended questions in Indonesian related to their response to the QCAA-provided unseen stimulus text/s and Unit 3 and Unit 4 subject matter.

The spoken conversation must:

- be an unprepared candidate-centred conversation in Indonesian with the examiner of 7–8 minutes in length
- provide opportunities to sustain communication and exchange meaning in Indonesian
- be recorded as evidence of the quality of the response and be made available for quality assurance processes.

Conditions

- Length: 7–8 minutes of unprepared candidate-centred conversation in Indonesian with the examiner.
- Other: dictionaries not permitted.

5.5.2 Senior external examination 2 (SEE 2): Examination (75%)

General information

Senior external examination is developed and marked by the QCAA. In Indonesian, it contributes 100% to a candidate's overall subject result. This assessment contributes 75% of that result.

The external assessment in Indonesian is common to all candidates and administered under the same conditions, at the same time, on the same day.

This examination is a combination of extended and short responses in English and Indonesian.

Combination response

Description

Senior external examination 2 assesses subject matter selected from:

- Unit 3 Topic 1: Roles and relationships
- Unit 3 Topic 2: Socialising and connecting with my peers
- Unit 3 Topic 3: Groups in society
- Unit 4 Topic 1: Future pathways, plans and reflections
- Unit 4 Topic 2: Responsibilities and moving on.

The examination assesses the application of a range of cognitions to multiple provided items — questions related to unseen Indonesian stimulus texts, questions, scenarios and/or problems.

Candidate responses must be completed individually, under supervised conditions, and in a set timeframe.

Assessment objectives

This assessment is used to determine candidate achievement in the following criteria and associated objectives:

1. comprehend Indonesian to understand information, ideas, opinions and experiences related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
2. identify tone, purpose, context and audience to infer meaning, values and attitudes related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
3. analyse and evaluate information and ideas to draw conclusions and justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
4. apply knowledge of Indonesian language elements, structures and textual conventions to convey meaning appropriate to context, purpose, audience and cultural conventions related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities
5. structure, sequence and synthesise information to justify opinions, ideas and perspectives related to relationships, roles in society, socialising and societal issues and ideas, future plans and responsibilities

Note: Objective 6 is not assessed in this instrument.

Specifications

This examination is a combination of extended and short responses in English and Indonesian related to three to six unseen Indonesian stimulus texts.

Criterion: Analysing Indonesian texts in English and Indonesian

This criterion requires candidates to:

- respond to three to six Indonesian stimulus texts, which:
 - are authentic
 - relate to Unit 3 and 4 subject matter
 - include at least one written text, and one audio or audiovisual text
 - are 500–800 words in length when combined as written text/s and transcript/s
- respond in English and Indonesian to unseen questions, scenarios and/or problems, e.g.
 - interpreting graphs, tables or diagrams
 - completing items requiring short and/or extended responses
 - responding to unseen stimulus texts
 - interpreting ideas and information in Indonesian texts
- analyse, synthesise and evaluate questions, scenarios and/or problems in response to Indonesian text/s
- write in full sentences, where appropriate, constructing a response so that ideas are maintained, developed and justified.

Criterion: Creating Indonesian texts

This criterion requires candidates to respond to unseen stimulus, questions, scenarios and/or problems in Indonesian.

Conditions

- Time: 2 hours plus 15 minutes perusal.
- Length:
 - responses in English
 - written short answer responses, up to 100 words per item
 - total response of 400–600 words
 - responses in Indonesian
 - written short answer responses up to 100 words per item
 - written extended answer responses of 200–300 words
 - total response of 400–600 words.
- Other: no supporting materials permitted.

6 Glossary

Term	Explanation
accomplished	highly trained or skilled in a particular activity; perfected in knowledge or training; expert accuracy	the condition or quality of being true, correct or exact; freedom from error or defect; precision or exactness; correctness; in science, the extent to which a measurement result represents the quantity it purports to measure; an accurate measurement result includes an estimate of the true value and an estimate of the uncertainty accurate	precise and exact; to the point; consistent with or exactly conforming to a truth, standard, rule, model, convention or known facts; free from error or defect; meticulous; correct in all details additional language acquisition	process by which a language other than a person's native language is learnt, including culturally appropriate communicative habits; also referred to as 'second language acquisition'
adept	very/highly skilled or proficient at something; expert adequate	satisfactory or acceptable in quality or quantity equal to the requirement or occasion
analyse	dissect to ascertain and examine constituent parts and/or their relationships; break down or examine in order to identify the essential elements, features, components or structure; determine the logic and reasonableness of information; examine or consider something in order to explain and interpret it, for the purpose of finding meaning or relationships and identifying patterns, similarities and differences
applied learning	the acquisition and application of knowledge, understanding and skills in real-world or lifelike contexts that may encompass workplace, industry and community situations; it emphasises learning through doing and includes both theory and the application of theory, connecting subject knowledge and understanding with the development of practical skills
Applied subject	a subject whose primary pathway is work and vocational education; it emphasises applied learning and community connections; a subject for which a syllabus has been developed by the QCAA with the following characteristics: results from courses developed from Applied syllabuses contribute to the QCE; results may contribute to ATAR calculations
apply	use knowledge and understanding in response to a given situation or circumstance; carry out or use a procedure in a given or particular situation
appraise	evaluate the worth, significance or status of something; judge or consider a text or piece of work appreciate	recognise or make a judgment about the value or worth of something; understand fully; grasp the full implications of

appropriate	acceptable; suitable or fitting for a particular purpose, circumstance, context, etc.
apt	suitable to the purpose or occasion; fitting, appropriate area of study	a division of, or a section within a unit argue	give reasons for or against something; challenge or debate an issue or idea; persuade, prove or try to prove by giving reasons aspect	a particular part of a feature of something; a facet, phase or part of a whole assess	measure, determine, evaluate, estimate or make a judgment about the value, quality, outcomes, results, size, significance, nature or extent of something assessment	purposeful and systematic collection of information about candidates' achievements assessment instrument	a tool or device used to gather information about candidate achievement assessment objectives	drawn from the unit objectives and contextualised for the requirements of the assessment instrument (see also 'syllabus objectives', 'unit objectives')
assessment technique	the method used to gather evidence about candidate achievement, (e.g. examination, project, investigation)
astute	showing an ability to accurately assess situations or people; of keen discernment
ATAR	Australian Tertiary Admission Rank
attitudes	in languages, how an author or creator of a text feels about the topic, situation and audience
audience	in languages, recipients of a text; the group of readers, listeners or viewers that the writer, designer, filmmaker or speaker is addressing, e.g. candidates in the educational setting, an individual, the wider community
audio	in languages, texts that are listened to audiovisual	in languages, texts that are viewed and listened to authentic	in languages, original or modified text that would be used by a background speaker for communicative purposes
authoritative	able to be trusted as being accurate or true; reliable; commanding and self-confident; likely to be respected and obeyed
background speaker	native speaker of a language or a person who has had significant exposure to and/or knowledge of a language and culture balanced	keeping or showing a balance; not biased; fairly judged or presented; taking everything into account in a fair, well-judged way
basic	fundamental

Term	Explanation
beliefs	what a person, society or group holds to be true
calculate	determine or find (e.g. a number, answer) by using mathematical processes; obtain a numerical answer showing the relevant stages in the working; ascertain/determine from given facts, figures or information categorise	place in or assign to a particular class or group; arrange or order by classes or categories; classify, sort out, sort, separate challenging	difficult but interesting; testing one's abilities; demanding and thought-provoking; usually involving unfamiliar or less familiar elements
characteristic	a typical feature or quality
clarify	make clear or intelligible; explain; make a statement or situation less confused and more comprehensible clarity	clearness of thought or expression; the quality of being coherent and intelligible; free from obscurity of sense; without ambiguity; explicit; easy to perceive, understand or interpret classify	arrange, distribute or order in classes or categories according to shared qualities or characteristics
clear	free from confusion, uncertainty, or doubt; easily seen, heard or understood clearly	in a clear manner; plainly and openly, without ambiguity
coherent	having a natural or due agreement of parts; connected; consistent; logical, orderly; well-structured and makes sense; rational, with parts that are harmonious; having an internally consistent relation of parts cohesive	characterised by being united, bound together or having integrated meaning; forming a united whole comment	express an opinion, observation or reaction in speech or writing; give a judgment based on a given statement or result of a calculation communicate	convey knowledge and/or understandings to others; make known; transmit community	a group of people who share common language, identity, and/or experience
compare	display recognition of similarities and differences and recognise the significance of these similarities and differences competent	having suitable or sufficient skills, knowledge, experience, etc. for some purpose; adequate but not exceptional; capable; suitable or sufficient for the purpose; having the necessary ability, knowledge or skill to do something successfully; efficient and capable (of a person); acceptable and satisfactory, though not outstanding

competently	in an efficient and capable way; in an acceptable and satisfactory, though not outstanding, way
complex	composed or consisting of many different and interconnected parts or factors; compound; composite; characterised by an involved combination of parts; complicated; intricate; a complex whole or system; a complicated assembly of particulars comprehend	understand the meaning or nature of; grasp mentally comprehensive	inclusive; of large content or scope; including or dealing with all or nearly all elements or aspects of something; wide-ranging; detailed and thorough, including all that is relevant concise	expressing much in few words; giving a lot of information clearly and in a few words; brief, comprehensive and to the point; succinct, clear, without repetition of information
concisely	in a way that is brief but comprehensive; expressing much in few words; clearly and succinctly conduct	direct in action or course; manage; organise; carry out consider	think deliberately or carefully about something, typically before making a decision; take something into account when making a judgment; view attentively or scrutinise; reflect on considerable	fairly large or great; thought about deliberately and with a purpose considered	formed after careful and deliberate thought consistent	agreeing or accordant; compatible; not self-opposed or self-contradictory, constantly adhering to the same principles; acting in the same way over time, especially so as to be fair or accurate; unchanging in nature, standard, or effect over time; not containing any logical contradictions (of an argument); constant in achievement or effect over a period of time construct	create or put together (e.g. an argument) by arranging ideas or items; display information in a diagrammatic or logical form; make; build
context	the environment in which an event occurs, or in the case of a text, is created or responded to; context may include the general social, historical and cultural conditions (the context of culture), the specific features of its immediate social environment (context of situation), or, when analysing a text, the parts of a text before or after a selected passage or word, and relevant to it (in context)
contrast	display recognition of differences by deliberate juxtaposition of contrary elements; show how things are different or opposite; give an account of the differences between two or more items or situations, referring to both or all of them throughout controlled	shows the exercise of restraint or direction over; held in check; restrained, managed or kept within certain bounds
conventions	in languages, cultural and linguistic norms or accepted practices
convey meaning	to express a thought, feeling, idea, opinion, experience or fact so it is understood by others

Term	Explanation
convincing	persuaded by argument or proof; leaving no margin of doubt; clear; capable of causing someone to believe that something is true or real; persuading or assuring by argument or evidence; appearing worthy of belief; credible or plausible
course	a defined amount of learning developed from a subject syllabus create	bring something into being or existence; produce or evolve from one's own thought or imagination; reorganise or put elements together into a new pattern or structure or to form a coherent or functional whole creative	resulting from originality of thought or expression; relating to or involving the use of the imagination or original ideas to create something; having good imagination or original ideas
credible	capable or worthy of being believed; believable; convincing criterion	the property or characteristic by which something is judged or appraised critical	involving skilful judgment as to truth, merit, etc.; involving the objective analysis and evaluation of an issue in order to form a judgment; expressing or involving an analysis of the merits and faults of a work of literature, music, or art; incorporating a detailed and scholarly analysis and commentary (of a text); rationally appraising for logical consistency and merit critique	review (e.g. a theory, practice, performance) in a detailed, analytical and critical way cultural conventions	common set of norms and established standards shared by members of a group, to which each person is expected to conform cultural values	common set of beliefs and principles shared by a group cursory	hasty, and therefore not thorough or detailed; performed with little attention to detail; going rapidly over something, without noticing details; hasty; superficial
decide	reach a resolution as a result of consideration; make a choice from a number of alternatives deduce	reach a conclusion that is necessarily true, provided a given set of assumptions is true; arrive at, reach or draw a logical conclusion from reasoning and the information given defensible	justifiable by argument; capable of being defended in argument define	give the meaning of a word, phrase, concept or physical quantity; state meaning and identify or describe qualities demonstrate	prove or make clear by argument, reasoning or evidence, illustrating with practical example; show by example; give a practical exhibition derive	arrive at by reasoning; manipulate a mathematical relationship to give a new equation or relationship; in mathematics, obtain the derivative of a function

describe	give an account (written or spoken) of a situation, event, pattern or process, or of the characteristics or features of something
design	produce a plan, simulation, model or similar; plan, form or conceive in the mind; in English, select, organise and use particular elements in the process of text construction for particular purposes; these elements may be linguistic (words), visual (images), audio (sounds), gestural (body language), spatial (arrangement on the page or screen) and multimodal (a combination of more than one)
detailed	executed with great attention to the fine points; meticulous; including many of the parts or facts determine	establish, conclude or ascertain after consideration, observation, investigation or calculation; decide or come to a resolution develop	elaborate, expand or enlarge in detail; add detail and fullness to; cause to become more complex or intricate devise	think out; plan; contrive; invent differentiate	identify the difference/s in or between two or more things; distinguish, discriminate; recognise or ascertain what makes something distinct from similar things; in mathematics, obtain the derivative of a function discerning	discriminating; showing intellectual perception; showing good judgment; making thoughtful and astute choices; selected for value or relevance discriminate	note, observe or recognise a difference; make or constitute a distinction in or between; differentiate; note or distinguish as different discriminating	differentiating; distinctive; perceiving differences or distinctions with nicety; possessing discrimination; perceptive and judicious; making judgments about quality; having or showing refined taste or good judgment discuss	examine by argument; sift the considerations for and against; debate; talk or write about a topic, including a range of arguments, factors or hypotheses; consider, taking into account different issues and ideas, points for and/or against, and supporting opinions or conclusions with evidence
disjointed	disconnected; incoherent; lacking a coherent order/sequence or connection distinguish	recognise as distinct or different; note points of difference between; discriminate; discern; make clear a difference/s between two or more concepts or items diverse	of various kinds or forms; different from each other document	support (e.g. an assertion, claim, statement) with evidence (e.g. decisive information, written references, citations)
draw conclusions	make a judgment based on reasoning and evidence

effective	successful in producing the intended, desired or expected result; meeting the assigned purpose efficient	working in a well-organised and competent way; maximum productivity with minimal expenditure of effort; acting or producing effectively with a minimum of waste, expense or unnecessary effort element	a component or constituent part of a complex whole; a fundamental, essential or irreducible part of a composite entity elementary	simple or uncompounded; relating to or dealing with elements, rudiments or first principles (of a subject); of the most basic kind; straightforward and uncomplicated
erroneous	based on or containing error; mistaken; incorrect essential	absolutely necessary; indispensable; of critical importance for achieving something evaluate	make an appraisal by weighing up or assessing strengths, implications and limitations; make judgments about ideas, works, solutions or methods in relation to selected criteria; examine and determine the merit, value or significance of something, based on criteria examination	a supervised test that assesses the application of a range of cognitions to one or more provided items such as questions, scenarios and/or problems; candidate responses are completed individually, under supervised conditions, and in a set timeframe
examine	investigate, inspect or scrutinise; inquire or search into; consider or discuss an argument or concept in a way that uncovers the assumptions and interrelationships of the issue exchange	to give and receive information, ideas, opinions and/or experiences experiment	try out or test new ideas or methods, especially in order to discover or prove something; undertake or perform a scientific procedure to test a hypothesis, make a discovery or demonstrate a known fact explain	make an idea or situation plain or clear by describing it in more detail or revealing relevant facts; give an account; provide additional information
explicit	clearly and distinctly expressing all that is meant; unequivocal; clearly developed or formulated; leaving nothing merely implied or suggested explore	look into both closely and broadly; scrutinise; inquire into or discuss something in detail express	convey, show or communicate (e.g. a thought, opinion, feeling, emotion, idea or viewpoint); in words, art, music or movement, convey or suggest a representation of; depict

extended response	an open-ended assessment technique that focuses on the interpretation, analysis, examination and/or evaluation of ideas and information in response to a particular situation or stimulus; while candidates may undertake some research when writing of the extended response, it is not the focus of this technique; an extended response occurs over an extended and defined period of time
Extension subject	a two-unit subject (Units 3 and 4) for which a syllabus has been developed by QCAA, that is an extension of one or more General subject/s, studied concurrently with, Units 3 and 4 of that subject or after completion of, Units 3 and 4 of that subject extensive	of great extent; wide; broad; far-reaching; comprehensive; lengthy; detailed; large in amount or scale
external assessment	summative assessment that occurs towards the end of a course of study and is common to all educational settings and candidates; developed and marked by the QCAA according to a commonly applied marking scheme external examination	a supervised test, developed and marked by the QCAA, that assesses the application of a range of cognitions to multiple provided items such as questions, scenarios and/or problems; candidate responses are completed individually, under supervised conditions, and in a set timeframe
extrapolate	infer or estimate by extending or projecting known information; conjecture; infer from what is known; extend the application of something (e.g. a method or conclusion) to an unknown situation by assuming that existing trends will continue or similar methods will be applicable
factual	relating to or based on facts; concerned with what is actually the case; actually occurring; having verified existence
familiar	well-acquainted; thoroughly conversant with; well known from long or close association; often encountered or experienced; common; (of materials, texts, skills or circumstances) having been the focus of learning experiences or previously encountered in prior learning activities feasible	capable of being achieved, accomplished or put into effect; reasonable enough to be believed or accepted; probable; likely fluent	spoken or written with ease; able to speak or write smoothly, easily or readily; articulate; eloquent; in artistic performance, characteristic of a highly developed and excellently controlled technique; flowing; polished; flowing smoothly, easily and effortlessly fluently	in a graceful and seemingly effortless manner; in a way that progresses smoothly and readily formative assessment	assessment whose major purpose is to improve teaching and candidate achievement
fragmented	disorganised; broken down; disjointed or isolated

frequent	happening or occurring often at short intervals; constant, habitual, or regular fundamental	forming a necessary base or core; of central importance; affecting or relating to the essential nature of something; part of a foundation or basis
G
General subject	a subject for which a syllabus has been developed by the QCAA with the following characteristics: results from courses developed from General syllabuses contribute to the QCE; General subjects have an external assessment component; results may contribute to ATAR calculations
generate	produce; create; bring into existence
gist	substance or essence of a matter or of a text
H
hypothesise	formulate a supposition to account for known facts or observed occurrences; conjecture, theorise, speculate; especially on uncertain or tentative grounds
identify	distinguish; locate, recognise and name; establish or indicate who or what someone or something is; provide an answer from a number of possibilities; recognise and state a distinguishing factor or feature illogical	lacking sense or sound reasoning; contrary to or disregarding of the rules of logic; unreasonable implement	put something into effect, e.g. a plan or proposal
implicit	implied, rather than expressly stated; not plainly expressed; capable of being inferred from something else improbable	not probable; unlikely to be true or to happen; not easy to believe inaccurate	not accurate
inappropriate	not suitable or proper in the circumstances inconsistent	lacking agreement, as one thing with another, or two or more things in relation to each other; at variance; not consistent; not in keeping; not in accordance; incompatible, incongruous
independent	thinking or acting for oneself, not influenced by others in-depth	comprehensive and with thorough coverage; extensive or profound; well-balanced or fully developed
Indonesian culture	culture that pertains to the Indonesian language and the communities in which the language is spoken, rather than just the country of Indonesia
infer	derive or conclude something from evidence and reasoning, rather than from explicit statements; listen or read beyond what has been literally expressed; imply or hint at

informed	knowledgeable; learned; having relevant knowledge; being conversant with the topic; based on an understanding of the facts of the situation (of a decision or judgment)
innovative	new and original; introducing new ideas; original and creative in thinking insightful	showing understanding of a situation or process; understanding relationships in complex situations; informed by observation and deduction instrument-specific marking guide	ISMG; a tool for marking that describes the characteristics evident in candidate responses and aligns with the identified objectives for the assessment (see 'assessment objectives')
integral	adjective necessary for the completeness of the whole; essential or fundamental; noun in mathematics, the result of integration; an expression from which a given function, equation, or system of equations is derived by differentiation
intended	designed; meant; done on purpose; intentional intercultural understanding	understanding that there are multiple ways to view the world; an awareness of diverse beliefs, values and customs interpret	use knowledge and understanding to recognise trends and draw conclusions from given information; make clear or explicit; elucidate or understand in a particular way; bring out the meaning of, e.g. a dramatic or musical work, by performance or execution; bring out the meaning of an artwork by artistic representation or performance; give one's own interpretation of; identify or draw meaning from, or give meaning to, information presented in various forms, such as words, symbols, pictures or graphs investigate	carry out an examination or formal inquiry in order to establish or obtain facts and reach new conclusions; search, inquire into, interpret and draw conclusions about data and information investigation	an assessment technique that requires candidates to research a specific problem, question, issue, design challenge or hypothesis through the collection, analysis and synthesis of primary and/or secondary data; it uses research or investigative practices to assess a range of cognitions in a particular context; an investigation occurs over an extended and defined period of time irrelevant	not relevant; not applicable or pertinent; not connected with or relevant to something
ISMG	instrument-specific marking guide; a tool for marking that describes the characteristics evident in candidate responses and aligns with the identified objectives for the assessment (see 'assessment objectives')

Term	Explanation
isolated	detached, separate, or unconnected with other things; one-off; something set apart or characterised as different in some way
J
judge	form an opinion or conclusion about; apply both procedural and deliberative operations to make a determination justified	sound reasons or evidence are provided to support an argument, statement or conclusion
justify	give reasons or evidence to support an answer, response or conclusion; show or prove how an argument, statement or conclusion is right or reasonable
language elements	parts of a language system that combine, e.g. phonemes (sounds), morphemes (words), language features, language functions, characters, punctuation, phrases, sentences and utterances (see also 'language features')
language features	linguistic elements that support meaning, e.g. sentence structure, noun group/phrase, vocabulary, punctuation, figurative language, framing; choices in language features and text structures together define a type of text and shape its meaning; these choices vary according to the purpose of a text, its subject matter, audience, and mode or medium of production learning area	a grouping of subjects, with related characteristics, within a broad field of learning, e.g. the Arts, sciences, languages
linguistic	relating to languages, use of language elements and language-learning skills linguistic and cultural knowledge	combination of intercultural understanding and knowledge of language elements suited to the mode of communication logical	rational and valid; internally consistent; reasonable; reasoning in accordance with the principles/rules of logic or formal argument; characterised by or capable of clear, sound reasoning; (of an action, decision, etc.) expected or sensible under the circumstances logically	according to the rules of logic or formal argument; in a way that shows clear, sound reasoning; in a way that is expected or sensible
make decisions	select from available options; weigh up positives and negatives of each option and consider all the alternatives to arrive at a position
manipulate	adapt or change to suit one's purpose

Term	Explanation
mental procedures	a domain of knowledge in Marzano's taxonomy, and acted upon by the cognitive, metacognitive and self-systems; sometimes referred to as 'procedural knowledge'; there are three distinct phases to the acquisition of mental procedures — the cognitive stage, the associative stage, and the autonomous stage; the two categories of mental procedures are skills (single rules, algorithms and tactics) and processes (macroprocedures)
methodical	performed, disposed or acting in a systematic way; orderly; characterised by method or order; performed or carried out systematically
minimal	least possible; small, the least amount; negligible
mode	in languages, a method of communication for exchanging meaning, i.e. listening, reading, speaking, viewing and writing; in combination, these methods of communication form multimodal texts modify	change the form or qualities of; make partial or minor changes to something multimodal	uses a combination of at least two modes (e.g. spoken, written), delivered at the same time, to communicate ideas and information to a live or virtual audience, for a particular purpose; the selected modes are integrated so that each mode contributes significantly to the response
narrow	limited in range or scope; lacking breadth of view; limited in amount; barely sufficient or adequate; restricted nuanced	showing a subtle difference or distinction in expression, meaning, response, etc.; finely differentiated; characterised by subtle shades of meaning or expression; a subtle distinction, variation or quality; sensibility to, awareness of, or ability to express delicate shadings, as of meaning, feeling, or value
objectives	see 'syllabus objectives', 'unit objectives', 'assessment objectives'
obvious	clearly perceptible or evident; easily seen, recognised or understood optimal	best, most favourable, under a particular set of circumstances organise	arrange, order; form as or into a whole consisting of interdependent or coordinated parts, especially for harmonious or united action
organised	systematically ordered and arranged; having a formal organisational structure to arrange, coordinate and carry out activities
outstanding	exceptionally good; clearly noticeable; prominent; conspicuous; striking

partial	not total or general; existing only in part; attempted, but incomplete particular	distinguished or different from others or from the ordinary; noteworthy perceptive	having or showing insight and the ability to perceive or understand; discerning (see also 'discriminating') performance	an assessment technique that requires candidates to demonstrate a range of cognitive, technical, creative and/or expressive skills and to apply theoretical and conceptual understandings, through the psychomotor domain; it involves candidate application of identified skills when responding to a task that involves solving a problem, providing a solution or conveying meaning or intent; a performance is developed over an extended and defined period of time personal response	text created by an individual expressing their own ideas, opinions, experiences, values, attitudes and/or perspectives perspectives	in languages, the ways in which writers/speakers deliberately or subconsciously construct their texts to embed their way of thinking in their texts and position readers/viewers, e.g. a conservative perspective; conversely, the way readers/viewers perceive or interpret a text persuasive	capable of changing someone's ideas, opinions or beliefs; appearing worthy of approval or acceptance; (of an argument or statement) communicating reasonably or credibly (see also 'convincing')
perusal time	time allocated in an assessment to reading items and tasks and associated assessment materials; no writing is allowed; candidates may not make notes and may not commence responding to the assessment in the response space/book
planning time	time allocated in an assessment to planning how to respond to items and tasks and associated assessment materials; candidates may make notes but may not commence responding to the assessment in the response space/book; notes made during planning are not collected, nor are they graded or used as evidence of achievement
polished	flawless or excellent; performed with skilful ease
precise	definite or exact; definitely or strictly stated, defined or fixed; characterised by definite or exact expression or execution precision	accuracy; exactness; exact observance of forms in conduct or actions predict	give an expected result of an upcoming action or event; suggest what may happen based on available information product	an assessment technique that focusses on the output or result of a process requiring the application of a range of cognitive, physical, technical, creative and/or expressive skills, and theoretical and conceptual understandings; a product is developed over an extended and defined period of time

proficient	well advanced or expert in any art, science or subject; competent, skilled or adept in doing or using something
project	an assessment technique that focusses on a problem-solving process requiring the application of a range of cognitive, technical and creative skills and theoretical understandings; the response is a coherent work that documents the iterative process undertaken to develop a solution and includes written paragraphs and annotations, diagrams, sketches, drawings, photographs, video, spoken presentations, physical prototypes and/or models; a project is developed over an extended and defined period of time propose	put forward (e.g. a point of view, idea, argument, suggestion) for consideration or action
prove	use a sequence of steps to obtain the required result in a formal way
psychomotor procedures	a domain of knowledge in Marzano's taxonomy, and acted upon by the cognitive, metacognitive and self-systems; these are physical procedures used to negotiate daily life and to engage in complex physical activities; the two categories of psychomotor procedures are skills (foundational procedures and simple combination procedures) and processes (complex combination procedures)
purposeful	having an intended or desired result; having a useful purpose; determined; resolute; full of meaning; significant; intentional
QCE	Queensland Certificate of Education
realise	create or make (e.g. a musical, artistic or dramatic work); actualise; make real or concrete; give reality or substance to reasonable	endowed with reason; having sound judgment; fair and sensible; based on good sense; average; appropriate, moderate reasoned	logical and sound; based on logic or good sense; logically thought out and presented with justification; guided by reason; well-grounded; considered recall	remember; present remembered ideas, facts or experiences; bring something back into thought, attention or into one's mind recognise	identify or recall particular features of information from knowledge; identify that an item, characteristic or quality exists; perceive as existing or true; be aware of or acknowledge refined	developed or improved so as to be precise, exact or subtle reflect on	think about deeply and carefully rehearsed	practised; previously experienced; practised extensively related	associated with or linked to relevance	being related to the matter at hand

Term	Explanation
relevant	bearing upon or connected with the matter in hand; to the purpose; applicable and pertinent; having a direct bearing on repetitive	containing or characterised by repetition, especially when unnecessary or tiresome reporting	providing information that succinctly describes candidate performance at different junctures throughout a course of study resolve	in the Arts, consolidate and communicate intent through a synthesis of ideas and application of media to express meaning routine	often encountered, previously experienced; commonplace; customary and regular; well-practised; performed as part of a regular procedure, rather than for a special reason
rudimentary	relating to rudiments or first principles; elementary; undeveloped; involving or limited to basic principles; relating to an immature, undeveloped or basic form
safe	secure; not risky
secure	sure; certain; able to be counted on; self-confident; poised; dependable; confident; assured; not liable to fail
select	choose in preference to another or others; pick out sensitive	capable of perceiving with a sense or senses; aware of the attitudes, feelings or circumstances of others; having acute mental or emotional sensibility; relating to or connected with the senses or sensation sequence	place in a continuous or connected series; arrange in a particular order
show	provide the relevant reasoning to support a response significant	important; of consequence; expressing a meaning; indicative; includes all that is important; sufficiently great or important to be worthy of attention; noteworthy; having a particular meaning; indicative of something simple	easy to understand, deal with and use; not complex or complicated; plain; not elaborate or artificial; may concern a single or basic aspect; involving few elements, components or steps
simplistic	characterised by extreme simplification, especially if misleading; oversimplified
sketch	execute a drawing or painting in simple form, giving essential features but not necessarily with detail or accuracy; in mathematics, represent by means of a diagram or graph; the sketch should give a general idea of the required shape or relationship and should include features

Term	Explanation
skilful	having technical facility or practical ability; possessing, showing, involving or requiring skill; expert, dexterous; demonstrating the knowledge, ability or training to perform a certain activity or task well; trained, practised or experienced skilled	having or showing the knowledge, ability or training to perform a certain activity or task well; having skill; trained or experienced; showing, involving or requiring skill
solve	find an answer to, explanation for, or means of dealing with (e.g. a problem); work out the answer or solution to (e.g. a mathematical problem); obtain the answer/s using algebraic, numerical and/or graphical methods sophisticated	of intellectual complexity; reflecting a high degree of skill, intelligence, etc.; employing advanced or refined methods or concepts; highly developed or complicated specific	clearly defined or identified; precise and clear in making statements or issuing instructions; having a special application or reference; explicit, or definite; peculiar or proper to something, as qualities, characteristics, effects, etc.
spontaneous	unprepared; responding to an unseen stimulus and/or new situation, e.g. a prepared speech may be followed by a spontaneous discussion with the audience
