Design syllabus consultation forums

Purpose

To invite Technologies heads of department to participate in syllabus consultation forums about the Design General Senior Syllabus 2017.

Background

In June 2016, the QCAA Board approved the development of the new Design syllabus to modernise existing curriculum offerings. In response, the QCAA recruited practising teachers and academics with subject discipline expertise to form expert writing teams.

In March 2017, the Draft 3 syllabus for Design was published for review and feedback.

Who should attend

- Technologies heads of department (a limit of two per school)

Outline

This forum will focus on:

- providing information about the Design course of study
- consulting about the implementation of the Design syllabus.

Participants have the opportunity to:

- gain information and ask questions about the development Design syllabus.

Cost

These forums are free of charge and include morning or afternoon tea.
